

Treatment Benefit

What is Treatment Benefit?

Treatment Benefit is a scheme that may allow you to qualify for:

- Dental Benefit
- Optical Benefit
- Contact Lenses (on medical grounds)
- Hearing Aids.

Dental Benefit

Dental Benefit covers dental examination and diagnosis.

Note:

You may receive Dental Benefit for examinations carried out in other European Union (EU) member states. Contact Treatment Benefit Section before you travel for an application form and details of the amounts the Department will pay.

Optical Benefit

Optical Benefit covers an eye examination only*.

*The Department does not pay towards the cost of an eye examination for visual display units (VDU), such as computers or for driving licences.

Note:

You may receive Optical Benefit for eye examinations carried out in other EU member states. Contact Treatment Benefit Section before you travel for an application form and details of the amounts the Department will pay.

Contact Lenses

If you need contact lenses on medical grounds, the Department will pay up to half the cost, subject to a fixed maximum contribution, provided you have a doctor's recommendation.

Note:

You may receive benefit for contact lenses bought in other EU member states, provided the lenses are needed on medical grounds. Contact Treatment Benefit Section before you travel for an application form and details of the amounts the Department will pay.

Hearing Aids

The Department will pay up to half the cost of a hearing aid or repairs to a hearing aid, subject to a fixed maximum contribution of €500 for one aid and €1,000 if you need two aids.

Before you buy your hearing aid you should make sure that you know the amount that you will need to pay on top of your grant.

This grant can be paid to a person who has the necessary PRSI contributions or to their adult dependant.

You can find a list of hearing services companies on our website www.welfare.ie. You can use your hearing aid grant if you qualify when buying hearing aids from them.

Note:

You may receive benefit for hearing aid(s) supplied in other EU member states. Contact Treatment Benefit Section before you travel for an application form and details of the amounts the Department will pay.

Am I entitled to Treatment Benefit on my spouse's, civil partner's or cohabitant's social insurance record?

You can get Treatment Benefit on your spouse's, civil partner's or cohabitant's PRSI record provided they satisfy the qualifying contribution conditions and you are dependent on your spouse, civil partner or cohabitant.

You are considered dependent on your spouse, civil partner or cohabitant if you:

- have a gross income of €100 or less per week,
- earn more than €100 per week and were dependent on your spouse or partner before entering or resuming insurable employment at Class A, E, H, P and from 27 March 2017 S,
- are not getting a social welfare payment (except Disablement Pension, Supplementary Welfare Allowance, Carer's Benefit or Child Benefit),
- are getting Carer's Allowance or the State Pension (Non-Contributory) in your own right and were dependent on your spouse, civil partner or cohabitant immediately prior to getting the Allowance or Pension.

Can I qualify for Treatment Benefit as a widow, widower or surviving civil partner?

If you were entitled to Treatment Benefit on your spouse's, civil partner's or cohabitant's insurance record at the time of their death, you will continue to be entitled for as long as you remain widowed.

If you are working, you may qualify for Treatment Benefit on your own PRSI contribution record provided you satisfy the PRSI qualifying conditions
